

The Pottery Class

Read the story and answer the questions

Sam liked to do pottery. Every day, after school, he used to spend some time making a few pottery items. As the days passed, his passion grew stronger. He shared his desire to attend a pottery class during the summer vacation with his parents. The next day, his parents arranged for the finest pottery class for him. As the summer vacations began, Sam got all excited to attend the class. On his first day, he learned the proper use of a pottery wheel and the various types of pottery wares that he could make. After returning from the class, Sam shared all his learnings with his parents. He thanked his parents for supporting him. As a token of appreciation, he gave an earthen pot to his parents that he had made in the class.
