

Alan And The Frog

It was a beautiful sunny day. Alan was all excited as it was the last day of school before the summer vacation.

He waved all his friends goodbye and wished them a fun time for the vacation. As he was walking home, he heard a sound from the bushes on the side of the road. He went close to have a look and saw a big frog!

Alan was so excited to see the frog. The frog suddenly jumped and hopped onto Alan's shoulder. "If you kiss me, I will turn into a beautiful princess!" the frog whispered.

Alan was surprised. He looked at the frog and smiled. Just as he lifted the frog and was about to put it in his pocket, the frog said "Why are you smiling? I am telling the truth. Kiss me, and I will become a pretty princess with long hair and blue eyes. If you kiss me, I will clean your room, do your homework, and love you forever!"

Alan smiled again and put the frog in his pocket. The frog yelled angrily, "What is wrong with you! I really am a beautiful princess. I can bake some delicious cookies and cupcakes for you if you turn me into a princess. Why won't you kiss me?!"

Alan replied, "I am an eight-year-old boy. I do not need a princess, but a talking frog is really cool!"
