

Things You Should Know If You Have An Aries Partner

Likes most gifts because they love trying new things. However, consider giving him an experience rather than something physical.

May find your natural look more attractive, so don't worry about your unwashed or tousled hair on your date.

Appreciates being active on a date, so you may indulge in activities, such as horse-riding, gardening, or kite flying.

Loves being with a partner who explores new places and tries new activities.

Likes being responsible and taking up the role of a protector or provider.

Traits of an Aries Man

Traits of an Aries Woman

Pretty persuasive and may sometimes seem bossy.

Loves experimenting and taking up challenges. So indulging in activities, such as trekking and rock climbing, may keep her happy.

Craves independence in their relationship and is well aware of their priorities.

Appreciates your strong opinions and your ability to stand for your beliefs.

Overly romantic but completely passionate and dedicated to the relationship.

