

Texts To Keep That Adorable Smile On His Face All Day

Where is my strong, pickle-jar- opening man when I need him? Missing you, Love!

I bet you'll smile when you read this!

I'm debating calling in sick just to come to see you at work today.

Me without you is like shoes without laces and ASentenceWithoutSpaces.

I love you like I love my cake, like my last bite of pizza and the money in my bank. God, I really love you so much!

If there's one thing I would change about you, it would be your current location, so you could be with me.
