Facts About Tingling In Breasts

The imbalance of fatty acids in the diet may lead to breast tingling.

Women with larger or heavy breasts are more likely to have breast tingling.

A doctor should evaluate persistent breast tingling.

Mammograms are usually done only if there are other concerning symptoms, along with breast tingling.

Reference:

No more breast stress: What you need to know about breast pain;
 Tufts Medical Center

Source: https://www.momjunction.com/articles/tingling-in-breasts_00463393/