

Major Milestones During The First Year Of Birth

During their first month, babies will start reacting to their parents' voices and smiles.

01

02

In the second month, they will learn to give social smiles and study faces.

By the third month, they will exchange smiles with body movements such as opening their hands and lifting their feet.

03

04

During the fourth month, they will start grabbing objects.

In the fifth month, they will learn to move objects from one hand to the other.

05

06

By the sixth, they will babble and make noises like squeals and murmurs.

In the seventh, they will start to crawl and scoot.

07

08

By the eighth month, they will start responding when you call their names.

In the ninth, babies will try to crawl and climb stairs.

09

10

During the tenth, they will start showing all moods, including happiness, sadness, and anger.

In the eleventh month, they will try saying "mama" or "dada."

11

12

By the twelfth, they can stand without support and take their first steps.