

Easy Ways To Wash Your Toddler's Hair

Use accessories like a fun toy, and spray bottles to occupy toddlers during bath time. You might even sing or play a fun game for them.

Ensure the shampoo you use has a "no-tears" formula so that it doesn't hurt or cause any irritation to the eye.

Don't wash your toddler's hair every day. Cleaning it once to twice a week is enough.

Stick some stickers on the ceiling and ask your toddler to look up when pouring water on their head.

Try using a moist towel to soothe the toddler while bathing. This can make shampooing the hair less stressful.

If your toddler is giving you a hard time, try not to get frustrated or furious. To help them relax, wrap them in a towel and hug them.
