

Major Fetal Developments At 14 Weeks Of Pregnancy

Continuing development of facial features

Beginning of the formation of bone marrow

Hardening of bones to make the skeleton

Developing unique
fingerprints

Developing soft and downy body hair
(lanugo)

Beginning of the movement of the limbs

Starting swallowing
amniotic fluid through the mouth

Maturing of the thyroid gland and starting the production of
thyroid hormone