

Mistakes To Avoid If You're In A Female-Led Relationship

If you are the woman who is leading

Don't fluctuate between mild and extreme control based on your mood.

Communicate clearly with him if you expect him to understand what you want or what he's supposed to do.

Be mindful of his behavior. If he shows poor interest and effort in the relationship, he is perhaps not interested in an FLR anymore.

If you are the man who wants to be led

Don't become resentful due to her control in certain aspects of the relationship.

Maintain the rules of the relationship and don't entirely depend on her if it wasn't decided before.

Don't let your friends' opinions affect your masculinity and trigger jealousy.
