

What to do if your female friend has a crush On you

Expressing your interest

Compliment her on her outfit or hair.

Look her in the eyes while talking and greet her with a smile.

Reciprocate her body language if she is trying to get close to you.

Tell her that you want just the two of you to spend some time together.

Text her randomly and start liking her pictures as soon as she posts them.

Expressing your disinterest

Move back or maintain distance if she's trying to get close.

Try not to meet her too often or suggest meeting in groups.

Don't reply to her texts immediately.

If nothing works, be honest but kind and say that you only see her as a friend.

If you like someone else, try dropping hints such as pictures or liking her posts.
