

Maintain a diary and note down the answers to these questions to help your doctor better understand your symptoms and the cause behind your ice cravings.

- What time of the day do I get the cravings for ice?
- Do I crave ice when there is any discomfort in my mouth?
- Does my craving subside after I eat a specific type of food?
- How much ice am I eating to satisfy my craving?
- How do I feel before and after I have eaten ice?
- Does chewing on ice relax or calm me down?
- Does the craving only happen after taking a particular medication or during a specific season?

Mom Junction

Source: https://www.momjunction.com/articles/eating-ice-when-pregnant-safteybenefits-risks_00787360/