

Find Out If

She Likes You

She calls or texts you frequently, even if it's nothing important.

When at a party, she is always searching for you, and her eyes light up when she spots you.

She goes out of her way to get you the thing you said you liked.

Others may approach her, but she is interested in your opinion and compliments.

If she's not into sports, but you play football, she learns about it and comes to your games to support you.
