

Tips For Washing Baby Clothes Properly

Wash all new baby clothes before their first use.

Use hypoallergenic detergents for a skin-friendly experience.

Avoid using enzyme-rich detergents to prevent skin irritation.

Opt for liquid detergents over powder ones, as the former is easier to rinse off.

Test a new detergent with one of the baby's garments to check for allergies.

Rinse milk, food, and stool marks with plain water first to loosen them.

Use a reputed and baby-safe stain remover to tackle stubborn stains.

Place small clothes, such as baby socks, in a mesh bag when using a washing machine.

Secure the Velcro straps of clothes that have them to avoid damaging other clothes.

Rinse the clothes until the water runs clear to remove the soap residue thoroughly.

References

1. Laundering Your Baby's Clothes; Johns Hopkins All Children's Hospital
2. Planning for Baby – Clothing Fabric Choices, Care Labels, Comfort, Fit, Size, and Safety; Virginia State University
3. Advising Parents On Washing Babies' Clothes; NIH
4. Cleaning Baby Clothes; American Academy Of Pediatrics