

How To React If The Guy Is Not Interested?

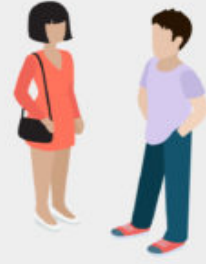

Try these for the first attempt

Give him subtle hints that you are serious about your relationship.

Talk to his friends to understand what is bothering him.

Be honest and offer your help to him.

Express your feelings through actions.

If he wants to talk, listen calmly to his perspective.

Offer to take a break rather than completely moving away from each other.

Address any issues that bother you or him.

If nothing works

Think if you still wish to be friends.

Introspect if it would be fine for you to see him with another woman.

Do not forget your long-term emotional well-being.

Stay kind and have good intentions for him.

Be respectful and do not get into a difficult conversation without thinking.

If you decide on a closure, move on and do not stalk him.
