

Points to Remember Before Flirting With A Guy

Don't overdo it

Flirting too much will make you look desperate. So flirt just enough and always leave your guy craving for more.

Be subtle

Flirting is an art, and subtlety is the main ingredient. Don't be obvious while flirting and let his imagination run wild.

Use humor

Use your sense of humor to tease your guy without being offensive.

Don't throw yourself into him

Manifest that you are an independent woman; while you like him, you can take care of yourself pretty well.

Center the conversation around him

Talk about him and make him feel special so that he will look forward to spending more time with you.