

Tips To Get Your Baby Into Modeling

Take multiple pictures of your baby with different costumes.

When taking a picture at home, keep the background neutral.

Use a high-resolution camera to capture a clear and perfect image.

Select the best image, and avoid adding any filters.

Research on the web about casting calls or auditions.

Join casting groups in your area and follow their web pages and concerned people.

Apply to as many agencies as possible and wait for their call.

Understand the process of applying and uploading your baby's pictures on the right websites.
