

Words To Express Your

LOVE

For Your

Mom

You are the strongest person I know.

Thank you for giving birth to me. I am so lucky to be born to such a wonderful woman as you.

Thank you for always being there for me in my best and worst times.

Only you can understand me when I cry.

After doing all your work, you still manage to look like a model. How do you handle it?

You are the reason for everything I was, everything I am, and everything I will ever be.

You, mom, are the only person who can be a doctor, nurse, teacher, referee, babysitter, chef, and friend without any qualifications.

You make everything appear so simple. How do you manage to be my mom while being so cool?
