

Baby Rolling Eyes:

Benign And Serious

Reasons

Benign (Less Serious) Reasons	Serious Reasons (involving medical conditions)
Discovering their eye movements	Nystagmus
Imitating an adult	Ophthalmoplegia
Anger or irritability	Opsoclonus
Being sleepy or bored	Cranial nerve abnormalities
Gazing at various things	Eyelid myoclonia with absences

References

- 1 Abnormal Supranuclear Eye Movements in the Child; Survey of Ophthalmology
- 2 Eye Movement Disorders in Children; National Institutes of Health

