

How Can ——— Parents Help Their INTELLECTUALLY Disabled Child?

Be patient when your child is learning.

Although time-taking, encourage your child to be independent in daily activities.

Include them in age-appropriate household chores.

Well DONE

Use positive compliments when your child tries to do complex tasks.

Find opportunities for them to interact and socialize with others.

Get in touch with support groups.

Keep in touch with their teachers.

Motivate them to learn what they love.

