

How To Select A Toy For A 5-Year-Old Boy

Skill-specific

Consider buying a toy that will help develop a specific set of skills, such as STEM skills, social skills, or cognitive skills.

Safety

Ensure the toy is free of toxic chemicals, such as BPA, lead, and PVC.

Preference

The toy should be in line with what the boy prefers. If he already has a favorite game or character, use that as a clue to what he might like as a gift.

Complexity

The toy should be challenging but not too complex for the child. To invest in age-appropriate toys, check the product label to ensure it is meant for five-year olds.

Usefulness

Look for a toy that is both entertaining and educational to retain the child's interest while developing certain skills.