

Tips To Select The Right Hair Ties For Babies

Material should be stretchable to provide a good grip

Material should be soft to slide out without snagging

Elastic shouldn't be too tight to cause discomfort

Ensure the elastic is not so loose that the child can pull it out, which could pose a choking hazard

Hair ties should be made of non-toxic material

Opt for a pack that offers various shades, patterns, and variations

