Infant Formula: Precautions To Take

- Consult your pediatrician before starting or switching a formula.
- Make sure the product is fresh and within its ‘best before’ date.
- Keep the formula bottles clean and sterilized.
- Wash your hands with soap and water before preparing the formula.
- Prepare the formula as per the directions of the manufacturer or as specified by the pediatrician.
- If the baby shows any allergic reaction, discontinue and look for a new product.
- Do not give refrigerated formula milk; always make a fresh one.
- Discard any leftover formula. Do not save it for later.
