

Use The Power Of WORDS

To Discipline Children

“Instead of scolding your child, let them know calmly why you are upset. That way, you are raising them to argue constructively.”

“It’s so bizarre that you can feel the physical pain in your chest when your child says something that just breaks your heart.”

“Children don’t hurt their parents intentionally. But sadness is what they do even after knowing the effect.”

“Don’t stand for defiance and disrespect from your kids. There’s no excuse for abuse.”

“It’s important to remember that an argument with your child does not mean that they hate you. They are learning and growing with you too.”

“Hurting the feelings of parents brings punishment in both worlds.”
