

Possible Signs Of

Developmental Delay In

A One-Month-Old Baby

Poor latch and suction when breastfeeding

Do not look at an object when you move it in front of them

Do not blink eyes or move face away when facing bright light

Do not react to sounds even when awake and alert

Body and muscles appear stiff and limbs barely move

Lower jaw makes trembling movements even when still

Mom Junction

Source: https://www.momjunction.com/articles/babys-first-month-development-guide_00101911/