

DRINKING GAMES

TO PLAY WITH YOUR SPOUSE

BITE THE BAG

Place a paper or plastic bag between you and your partner and take turns trying to lift it with your mouth. The one who cannot has to take a drink. Also, with the completion of each round, an inch of the bag is chopped off.

BUZZ

You need to count the numbers starting from 1 to 100, but instead of saying the number 5 or the multiples of it, you need to say "buzz." The one who messes it up has to take a shot.

MIND MELD

Look at one another, count down from three, and then announce a word. Both players will then say another word based on what the two words combined make them think of. For example, one person could say 'Harry Styles' and the other could say 'band,' and the word the two have in common is "One Direction." Every time the words don't match, both players must take a drink.

TRY NOT TO LAUGH MARATHON

This game involves finding one of those "Try not to laugh" videos on YouTube that are sure to make someone roll on the floor laughing. Every time a player laughs, they have to take a shot.
