

DIFFERENCES BETWEEN SOULMATES AND KARMIC RELATIONSHIPS

SOULMATE RELATIONSHIPS

- The connection provides safety and stability
- Partners make growth enjoyable and easy
- They are emotionally attached and uplift their partners
- They bring out the best in their partners and help them evolve into beautiful personalities
- The connection is strong, and partners understand each other without having to explain
- The partners trust each other and are free to do what they please
- If the relationship ends, partners go through a painful and upsetting experience

KARMIC RELATIONSHIPS

- The connection is often painful and challenging
- Partners make growth difficult and full of hardships
- They are emotionally draining and have no intention of encouraging their partners
- They bring out the worst in their partners and completely change their personalities
- The connection is not trustworthy, and often, there is no understanding between partners
- One partner dominates the other, giving them no freedom to choose what they wish
- If the relationship ends, there are only bitter memories
