

Tips For Choosing Appropriate

Outdoor Toys

For One-Year-Olds

Ensure that the toys are durable for outdoor and rough use.

Avoid choosing toys with small and detachable pieces.

If investing in more than one toy, choose a variety of toys.

Make sure that the toy does not have any sharp or pointed edges.

For climbing toys, ensure they are of appropriate height for the baby's age.

Choose toys that could help their cognitive development, such as blocks and puzzles.

Choose toys where you can also participate with your baby.

Prefer easy-to-assemble toys with tough build quality.

Images: Amazon