

Indications For SURGICAL Consultations In Acute Abdominal Pain

A pediatrician may check for these conditions or scenarios to determine if the child needs abdominal pain treatment through surgery.

Significant abdominal trauma

Severe or worsening abdominal pain

Bile-stained vomiting

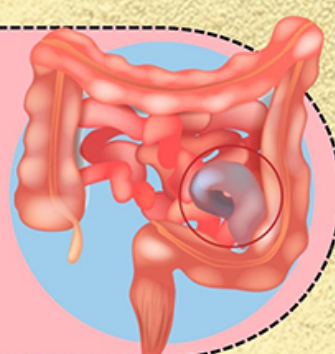

Dehydration due to acute fluid loss

Acute blood loss through stools

Pain without known causes

Suspected gastrointestinal obstruction

Reference

1. Acute Abdominal Pain In Children; American Academy Of Family Physicians