

Getting Your Partner's ATTENTION & LOVE Back

Things to do

When he seems to be in deep thought, gently put a cup of coffee near him, walk away and say nothing.

Dress classy yet attractively but don't try to initiate anything and go about your usual day.

Send him a photo of one of your cutest moments together, or randomly text him a fond memory.

Things to avoid

Nagging him about things he is clearly not interested in.

Appearing desperate. Remember to keep your self-respect first since a confident lady is the most attractive.

Agreeing with every blame he puts on you at the expense of your integrity. It will only make him lose his respect for you.
