

Etiquette To Follow When Putting Up Questions

To

Your Family

Be clear with your intentions when framing questions.

Select the right environment for asking questions.

Make the questions fun and lighthearted.

Questions on traditions and advice are great for elders.

Consider the age and situation of the person who is being questioned.

Do not use a rude, disrespectful, or sarcastic tone.

Do not ask personal questions that can make the person uncomfortable.