

Things To Avoid When With A Sagittarius

Lying is not acceptable in any relationship, but for a Sagittarius, this can fuel their overthinking once you're caught.

Saying things such as "Let's do this, it's more fun!" or "We should do it this way" may not be enough to make them agree since they tend to be stubborn in their ways.

Telling them they are wrong without proof since their arrogance may not let them believe you.

Saying, "Wow, I don't think anybody else can do that!" or "No one can compete with you." Although not intentional, this may add to their sometimes boastful behavior.

Giving them too much attention. This will not help their already attention-seeking nature and prevent them from remaining humble.
