

WHAT TOYS To Get For A Three-Year-Old?

Car set with different-sized cars for imaginative play.

A twenty-piece puzzle to boost thinking abilities.

A functional stuffed toy to promote companionship.

Chance-based board games to keep the child engaged.

Jumbo-lacing beads for sensory stimulation.

Child-sized cooking gear to develop motor skills.

Interlocking blocks for cognitive development.

Dress-up clothes and costumes to help them learn new skills.

Reference:

1. Toys and Play: Three to five-year-olds; Seattle Children's Hospital