COMPLIMENTING A GIRL

How To Compliment A Girl

Select the correct time and place, preferably when she is interested in a conversation, and it is just you two talking.

Make sure you know her well before you speak about your liking.

Make your compliment well-fitted to the conversation and situation at hand.

Make it distinctive and exciting to make it more special for her.

Be bold, genuine, and sincere in expressing your adoration for her.

Pick words that boost her spirits and provide her positivity.

What Not To Do While Complimenting A Girl

Avoid compliments involving her weight or targeted toward specific physical attributes.

Do not keep complimenting if she doesn't respond or seems disinterested.

Do not use generic statements or pick-up lines as compliments.

Do not give compliments that have any sexual innuendos.

TODAY

Avoid complimenting with the word "today," as it may make your compliment sound temporary.

Avoid complimenting her in return for a favor or work.
