

Different Types Of Baby Utensils

Chewy utensils feature soft-headed spoons and forks that don't hurt the child's teeth and gums.

Anti-choking utensils have a protective barrier, making self-feeding easier.

Stainless steel utensils are plastic-free and do not retain food odor.

Heat sensor utensils protect the baby from eating food that is too hot.

Utensils with a case are travel-friendly, making it convenient to feed the baby outdoors.

Bendable utensils enable the baby to eat from different angles, promoting self-feeding.
