

Reasons Your Baby's Head May

Feel Hot Without A Fever

Room temperature

Hot and humid weather may cause increased room temperatures, making the baby's head warm

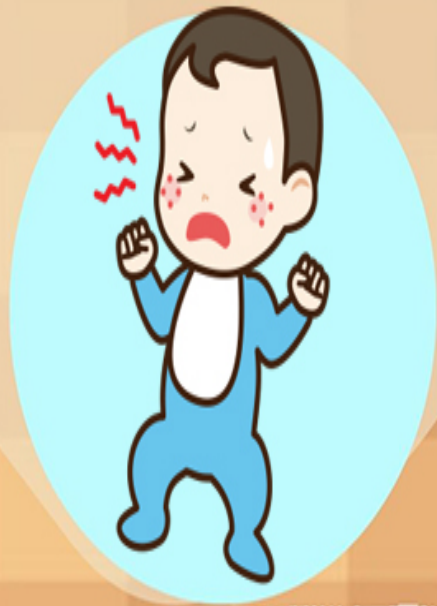

Warm clothes

The choice of clothing may cause variation in a baby's body temperature

Head position

If the baby happens to lie on their back for too long, their head may seem warmer

Stress and crying

Crying and stress may elevate body temperature

Teething

Teething may cause a slight increase in the temperature around the face and head.