

Conditions Requiring Side-Lying Breastfeeding Position

At the hospital

After a cesarean section

In case of forceful letdown or oversupply of breast milk

During nighttime

If the woman has large breasts

If the woman is feeling strained when in the sitting position

During an illness of the baby or the mother

If the baby is sleepy